

About WSP

WSP is one of the world's leading professional services firms. Our purpose is to future proof our cities and environments.

We have over 55,000 team members across the globe. In Canada, our 9,800+ people are involved in everything from environmental remediation to urban planning, from engineering iconic buildings to designing sustainable transportation networks, from finding new ways to extract essential resources to developing renewable power sources for the future.

The excellence we bring to our work and to our workplace has been recognized far and wide. We are among the LinkedIn Top 25 Companies two years in a row, one of the Top 100 Sustainable Companies in the World (and among the Top 10 in Canada), and we earned Platinum Elite Recognition through our participation in more than half of Canada's Top 100 Infrastructure Projects. At WSP :

- We value our people and our reputation
- We are locally dedicated with international scale
- We are future focused and challenge the status quo
- We foster collaboration in everything we do
- We have an empowering culture and hold ourselves accountable

We are a global leader in the Earth and Environment sector, made stronger with the recent acquisition of Golder. Globally headquartered in Montreal, where it all began, we proudly serve communities from coast to coast and beyond. With Golder now part of our WSP team, we have over 14,000 multidisciplinary professionals worldwide collaborating daily to protect and conserve natural landscapes, create firm foundations for communities to stand on, and champion sustainable development to combat climate change.

As part of the team, you will have access to an unparalleled network of resources, expertise, and endless opportunities to collaborate on exciting projects with diverse teammates from marine biologists to geophysicists to geotechnical engineers and more.

The Opportunity:

The Water Resources Group (Earth & Environment Division in Ontario) is actively pursuing top notch Water Resource Engineers and Scientists with 5 to 10 years of Environmental Consulting Experience. We are looking to further develop and grow our already well-rounded and diverse water business in Southern Ontario, with a plan for you to support a wide range of challenging and rewarding projects across multiple clients.

What you'll bring to WSP:

We are looking for professionals with demonstrated talents in leadership, communications (including technical writing and oral presentation skills), and strategic, solution-focused planning and project execution. These assets, coupled with a solid background in the hydrotechnical disciplines with associated credentials (P.Eng. or P.Geo.), are a must.

This is a great opportunity for you to join a phenomenal team of water practitioners. WSP is a global leader in environmental consulting, made stronger with the recent acquisition of Golder. A position with our Water Resources Group in the Earth & Environment Division in Ontario will offer competitive pay, substantial opportunities for technical development and career growth, a flexible work schedule, and a committed senior support and mentorship network.
